Islam The West And The

Islam and the West is a 1993 book written by Middle-East historian and scholar Bernard Lewis. The book deals with the relations between Islam and Western civilization. It is divided into 3 sections. The first section treats the history of the interactions between Europe and the Islamic world. The second section is concerned with the perceptions arising from these interactions by both societies. The third and final section is concerned with Islamic responses and reactions in ...

Islam and the West - Wikipedia

Both Islam and Christianity (which serves as a culturally uniting factor for the West) are absolutist, monotheistic religions. Both are universal, in the sense of making claims to apply to all of humanity rather than a single race or tribe.

What Is Behind the Conflict Between Islam and the West?

In the past, Islam and our Western society have acted and reacted upon one another several times in succession, in different situations and in alternating roles. The first encounter between them occurred when the Western society was in its infancy and when Islam was the distinctive religion of the Arabs in their heroic age.
